SECTION B

Questions 51 to 55 carry ten marks each.

51 Read the passage and answer the questions that follow in full sentences.

Communication is the System of sending and receiving messages/information. The System of sending information has improved greatly, Information is sent through internet. Here people use their email to pass on messages. Mobile phones have saved a great deal of money and time since information can be received in the shortest time possible.

However, sending letters and aerogramme could be another method but it might take lot of time. Besides this, letters can also get lost before they reach their destination. In the past, communication was difficult. Drums would be sounded to pass on information. Drums could be of a big disadvantage since sound couldn't go very far. The government has done a lot to improve on this sector. Most towns in Uganda, there is at least a post office. Buses have been provided to carry letters from one corner of the country to another. All in all, much more can still be done to make communication more effective.
