41. Read the passage below and answer in full sentences the questions that follow. Long ago in the village of Kenzo there was only one man called Mugoga who had a radio.

That time radios were scarce and expensive and few people had them. In this village, if one wanted to listen to the news or announcements one had to go to his home since he was the only one with a radio.

One day Lukyolo decided to go to this man's home at 8:00pm to listen to the news unfortunately Mugoga was not at home at that time.

He waited for him in vain. This poor man walked away miserably.

When he reached home, his wife welcomed him back and served him supper. After that, he went to bed. As he lay on his bed, he thought of a plan to sell one of his bulls so that he could acquire a radio. In the morning, he shared it with his wife and she welcomed the idea, they sold the bull at four hundred thousand shillings and bought the radio expensively.

Now things have changed. A radio has become cheap and affordable and much smaller today there is a radio in almost every home. There are also many radio stations and you can hear news and announcements every hour in several languages.

You can also listen to music especially pop music.
