SECTION B: 50 MARKS

51. Read the passage below and answer the questions about it in full sentences.

Hard work pays. Even those who have ever registered a failure, the saying is true; These were the words of Mr. Katamba John B, the District Education Officer, Lwengo District. He was addressing the candidates Tusubira Primary School to tell them to prepare for the district mock.

The next day, on Friday, Namusisi one of the candidates told her mother to buy her a simple watch for easy time management during the examinations. She thanked her daughter for listening attentively to what the DEO said. The following day, she went to Kyazze Market and bought a new watch for her.

Namusisi spent her weekend revising her notes since she knew that the examinations were to be done on a Monday and Tuesday. On the D day, she left home for school as early as 6 o'clock. When she reached school, she entered her classroom and calculated some mathematical numbers because it was the first paper. At around 8:30am, the invigilator rang the bell and the candidates lined up for checking. On receiving the paper, Namusisi saw exactly what she had practiced attempted it carefully and nearly. She did all the four subjects and waited for the results.

After two weeks, the district released the results. Namusisi was announced the best candidate who had scored aggregate 4. This made her win herself a bursary. When her mother heard about it, she bought her a goat in appreciation. Since, then, Namusisi has always believed in hard work.

Uganda the Pearl of Africa

Declare way back

By Winston Churchill

After seeing her most beautiful physical features.

Uganda the Pearl of Africa

With fifty-six tribes

Occupying the four geographical regions

Each proud of his or her customs, beliefs,

And above all culture

Poor or rich they may be,

Very proud of all the above

Uganda the Pearl of Africa

We must all protect

To save her glory

For the fight for her is worthy
