Dear Sir/Madam,

Re: Literature & English Forum Mock Exams 2024

On behalf of the Literature and English Forum, I write to you in respect of the above subject. The Literature and English Forum is an association that brings together teachers of Literature and English language from across the country. Our major objective is to co-ordinate in matters pertaining the teaching and learning of the two subjects. The Forum shall organize mock assessment to enable learners get acquainted with the new Competence Based Curriculum End of Cycle Assessment, as well as mock exams for A level students.

The Forum has a competent team well versed with the new curriculum which will set and score these exams. The exams will be administered in early June 2024 and will be scored immediately by our resourceful team. The results will be released by the end of June and feedback will be given during our annual teacher-guided learners' seminars scheduled for July, 2024.

The purpose of this letter is, therefore, to invite your school to participate in this inaugural mock assessment to prepare your learners for their End of Cycle Assessment. The rates shall be:

O' Level (NLSC)

English language	Ugx. 6,000/= per student
Literature in English	Ugx. 6,000/= per student

A' Level (Old curriculum)

Literature in English	Ugx. 12,000/= per student
General Paper	Ugx. 6,000/= per student

The rates will cater for delivery of exams to schools, scoring/marking, and delivery of scripts and scoring grids/marking guides.
